

Demonstrating Care: The Art of Integrative Nursing

“Libster has created a very informative and compelling piece of work that weaves together the art, beauty, and science of nursing. She does an outstanding job documenting from an historical perspective, nursing’s long tradition as an integrative, healing discipline. This text will serve as an inspiration and affirmation to both students and practicing nurses.”

Mary Jo Kreitzer, PhD, RN Director, Center for Spirituality and Healing, University of Minnesota

“Demonstrating Care is a wake up call for nurses to give critical thought to what nursing should/could be in the new millennium... This book will be an important contribution to nursing.”

Betty Neuman, PhD, FAAN Nursing Educator and Theorist

“The greatest charm of this book is in the style of its delivery. The anecdotal accounts of the author’s experiences with patients are potent exemplars. I think the book will be an inspiration to nursing students.”

Marlaine, Smith, PhD, RN
Department of Nursing, University of Colorado