

I enthusiastically recommend Reincarnation: The Phoenix Fire Mystery. This is one of those rare books which becomes more and more important as time passes. By placing the concept of reincarnation in historical and cultural context, the author demonstrates very clearly that this is no fad. Enjoy!

— Brian L. Weiss, M.D., author of Many Lives, Many Masters and Through Time into Healing

Presents writing from people as different as J. D. Salinger and Paul Tillich, G. B. Shaw and St. Augustine. In these days when religious ideas of the East are being re-explored in the West such an anthology should find wide use.

— The Christian Century

I read every page of this magnificent book. It is a superb piece of work. Easily the finest and most comprehensive on this subject.

— Rev. Leslie D. Weatherhead, former President of the Methodist Conference of Great Britain

Will surely stand for many years as the standard book on the subject. It not only feeds the mind but lifts it up the slopes of Everest to a greater awareness of man's nature and destiny. But most important are the quotations themselves as the deep convictions of men of mental calibre.

— Christmas Humphreys, British philosopher and author of Buddhism

Will open the eyes of many people who dismissed the rebirth theory as something oriental.

— Dr. S. Radhakrishnan, philosopher and former President of India

Fascinating and moving to read. . . Filled with encouragement, with the extraordinary eloquence of poetry, myth and religion . . . A massive encyclopedic gathering from the religions of both East and West, from science, psychology, philosophy.

— Robert Kirsch, Los Angeles Times

The book is not intended as a polemic but rather as an invitation to an inward journey. . . No other single source approaches this in scope of contents.

— Choice Magazine (American Library Association)

The Reader's Catalog (1989), an annotated selection of more than 40,000 of the best books in print, lists Reincarnation: The Phoenix Fire Mystery as one of the top seven books under the category of Reincarnation.

THEOSOPHICAL
UNIVERSITY
PRESS

COVER DESIGN: DEBORAH DALY

ISBN 1-55700-026-3

9 781557 000262